

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In a camera and method, a first electronic image is captured and stored in memory. A second electronic image is then captured. The second electronic image replaces the first electronic image in memory when the camera does not have a film unit loaded and the memory has capacity for storing both 5 images. The second electronic image is stored in memory with the first electronic image when the camera has a film unit loaded and the memory has capacity for storing both images.

5
10
15
20
25
30
35
40
45
50
55
60
65
70
75
80
85
90
95
100